What we do

How does Republic Bank protect my personal information?

To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards, and secured files and buildings. We authorize our employees to access your information only to provide products and services to you, and we require companies that work for us to protect your information.

How does Republic Bank collect my personal information?

We collect your personal information, for example, when you:

- Open an account or apply for a loan.
- Make a wire transfer or pay your bills.
- Give us your contact information.

We also collect your personal information from others, such as credit bureaus, affiliates, or other companies.

Why can't I limit all sharing?

Federal law gives you the right to limit only:

- Sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes - information about your creditworthiness.
- Affiliates from using information to market to you.
- Sharing for non-affiliates to market to you.

State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing.
